MEMORIAL

COLLEGE

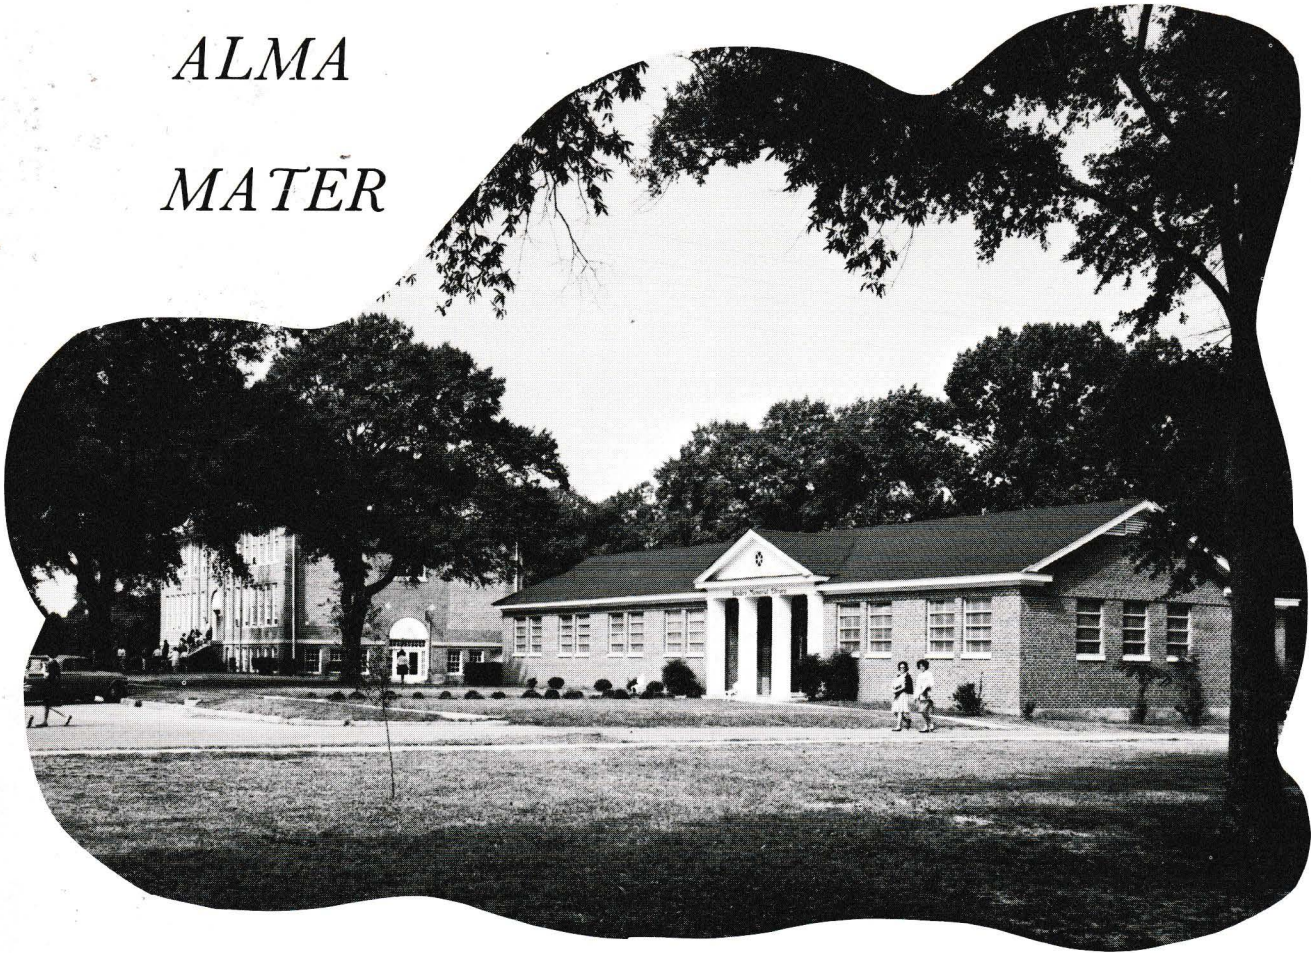

NEWTON,

MISSISSIPPI

OUR

MATER

Joyfully we sing to Clarke,
Scene of many happy days,
With the glow of fellowship
Bright'ning all our ways;

Friends and comrades old and new
Blend in mem'ry's golden hue,
Ties of love so strong and true,
Joyfully we sing to thee.

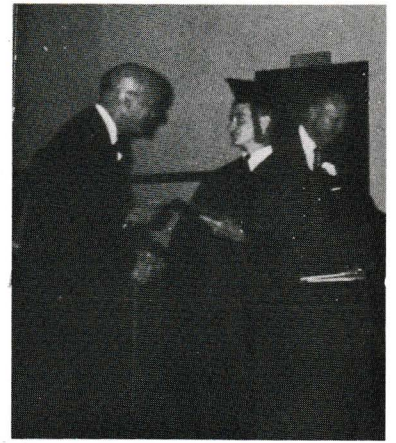

Gratefully we sing to Clarke,
Pledge our love and loyalty,
Hold high the light of truth,
Truth which makes men free.

For the vision clear and sure,
For the faith which shall endure,
For the courage to be pure,
Gratefully we sing to thee.

WITH

THESE

HANDS

THE HAND TO THE CARPENTER MEANS A
NAIL WELL DRIVEN OR A MITERED EDGE.

THE HAND TO THE FARMER MEANS A FIELD
WELL PLOWED OR A CROP OF GRAIN.

THE HAND TO THE PIANIST MEANS A MIGHTY CONCERTO OR A SIMPLE LULLABY.

THE HAND TO THE POET MEANS LIFE IN A WORD OR DEATH IN A SENTENCE.

THE HAND TO THE SCIENTIST MEANS A FORMULA FOUND OR A PROBLEM SOLVED.

THE HAND TO THE SURGEON MEANS A HEART THAT BEATS OR AN EAR THAT HEARS.

THE HAND TO THE CHRISTIAN MEANS A LIFE TO LIVE AND A SERVICE TO PERFORM.

THEN WITH THESE HANDS DO THE WILL OF GOD.

-- Ed Seabough

FOREWORD

The 1965 SEER staff proudly presents the year's highlights in review, from the first meeting of the upper classmen to the sad farewell of each.

To many this will be the last time for them to walk the hallowed halls of such a fine and christian alma mater. For them, all that will be left are cherished memories and a long lasting love for the institution of higher learning.

Like a stream, each of us must explore around the bend of wisdom to have a wider and clearer understanding of the rough winds and waves to come. But over the horizon there is an answer, the strong hand of God-this will lead us onward.

The annual staff challenges each of you to explore this bend and discover the realm of all that awaits you. For this is yours to master and when you have done your best, then you can proudly say, "With the will to do and the Grace of God I mastered all that I surveyed."

Teaching hands are guiding hands;

Teaching hands are strong, but gentle hands as they mold tomorrow's world;

Teaching hands are learned, but humble hands as they cut the patterns of young minds;

Teaching hands are physical, yet spiritual hands as they point the way to a fuller, richer life.

Teaching hands are those of one who has the wisdom, the patience, the faith, to lead the thoughts of young minds into the right doors toward an accomplished life, Teaching hands are those of our beloved Dr. O. P. Moore to whom we dedicate the 1964-65 Seer.

ADMINISTRATION & FACULTY

It is the responsibility of the teachers to educate minds, train bodies, and cultivate manners. It is through unceasing devotion and untiring efforts to their tasks that lives are molded, dreams are realized, and conscientious citizens are formed.

It is their ability that the students respect. It is their kindness that the students appreciate. It is their character that the students admire, and it is their friendship that the students value.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

We experience a mutual enrichment of life on our campus.

As students your lives have been enriched by the heritage from those who have gone before you, by the contacts with Christian teachers who have challenged you,
by the friendships with fellow students with whom you have shared your aspirations, your hopes and dreams.

In turn we the official college family have been enriched as we have worked with you and watched you grow;
as we have seen you face your opportunities,
expand your outlook and enlarge your purposes,
develop your abilities and prepare for effective service.

Clarke College has a richer heritage because you came our way.

DEAN AND MRS. THERMAN V. BRYANT

DEAN'S MESSAGE

Words spoken in casual conversation are sometimes remembered for days. Friendships formed in college often last throughout life. Christian influences exerted are for eternity.

May the influences of our faculty, staff, and student body be such that God can use them in the winning of souls, and strengthening of Christians to the uttermost parts of the earth.

We pray that all of us will so live that we can one day hear the Master say, "Well done, thou good...."

TRUSTEES

These experienced, capable men who have been willing to devote their time and effort with little compensation compose our Board of Trustees. The progress made by our school is proof of their sincere interest in the welfare of future Christian leaders.

FAREWELL, DEAN BRYANT

Leaders have many individual methods of leading. Our Dean calls forth the loyalty and best efforts of all the students by expressing his faith in us. He never reprimands, without also commending us for some well-executed task. If he can see and correct our faults, yet still express confidence in us, we can never fail him.

The devotion of students to Dean Bryant, is a forceful tribute to his capability and personality in the world of human relations.

Dean Bryant has capably served as Dean and Assistant to the President here at Clarke Memorial College for the past nine years. In that time he has set many students well on their way to serving a fruitful Christian life. That we shall miss our beloved Dean goes without saying, but we must content ourselves with the knowledge that our loss is another's gain. And what a privilege it will be to those who come to him as we have!

It shall be the earnest endeavor of all of us who have received inspiration from the example set before us by such a great man to prove that his labors at Clarke College have not been in vain.

This is Dean Bryant
how could we help but love him!

Commerce

Making those typewriters behave, translating our shorthand, and keeping those books in balance are the tasks set for us by Mrs. Clark and Mr. Baker. "Efficiency" is their motto. As students take their place in the business world, they will thank teachers who were never satisfied with less than the best in workmanship.

"All who have meditated on the art of governing mankind, have been convinced that the fate of empires depends on the education of youth."

Teaching students an appreciation for the artistic is a challenge to these talented musicians. They work long hours to see that music becomes a vital part in the lives of young people.

It is the responsibility of the teachers to educate minds, train bodies, and cultivate manners. It is through unceasing devotion, and untiring efforts to their tasks that lives are molded, dreams are realized, and conscientious citizens are formed.

It is their ability that the students respect. It is their kindness that the students appreciate. It is their character the students admire, and it is their friendship the students value.

FEATURES

Is it the touch of the Master's hand that makes special people so "special," or is it what they accomplish with just a common talent? Whether it be the first or the latter or a combination of the two, these who comprise this division of our yearbook surely are one of the strong guiding hands on our campus. As Christian examples of leadership, their lives help to mold our college years into successful years of growth in knowledge and brotherly love as described in the scriptures, "He increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man."

The hand of experience sketches many memories through one's years as a confused freshman and a puzzled sophomore---memories that are cherished long after the hand of fate has pointed the way along different roads of life. These years are filled with the joys of new adult experiences, disappointments of shaken dreams, and the triumph of the satisfaction of honest accomplishments. All of these help to build the various aspects of the well-rounded campus life as conscientious students strive to accept the challenge of the scripture, "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed rightly dividing the word of truth."

CLARKE EXTRA— ACTIVITIES

Mr. McElroy and Mrs. Thorton ably supervised the production of

"AMAH and THE NIGHT VISITORS"

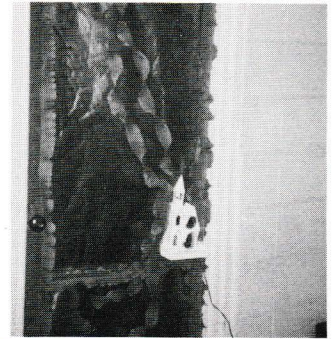

Jimmy Thrash accompanied on the organ along with the Newton High orchestra.

The audience bowed with reverence and wept with sentiment as AMAH and THE NIGHT VISITORS was enacted on the stage. Cast members, accompanists, and stage managers, put themselves completely into the touching portrayal of a crippled boy who through faith received a miracle on Christmas.

Claudia Hines, YWA President, welcomes Carol Martin, summer missionary to East Africa on Foreign Mission emphasis in the Lottie Moon Christmas offering.

Christmas trees and decorated doors added the festive touch to the Girls' Dormitory for open house.

How could we ever make all the arrangements and plan all the decorations without "Mother Mac?"

HAS CURRICULAR TOO!

Circle K, BSU, and Sweetheart Banquets comprise a representative of Clarke's social activities. Joyce Loden and Truell Hill are shown here reigning over the 1963 Sweetheart Banquet.

Tours and retreats are the well-deserved highlights of the year for the Clarke College Chorus.

Jim Wilson is being congratulated by President Compere and Mr. Evans for his fine achievement in being cited "Most Valuable Speaker From the Floor" at Youth Congress in Jackson.

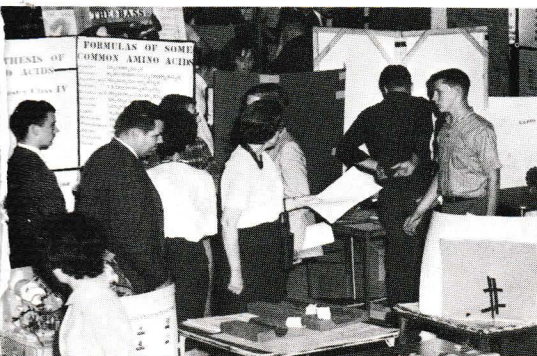

Merrill Blackburn and Sarah Luster, Tom Redd and Janie Lowery enjoy the Circle K Banquet held in Jackson.

For two years Clarke has been host to the District Science Fair.

Clarke boasts the most ardent sports fans in the world! This was exemplified in the enthusiasm of the students, as well as the faculty in the annual Freshman and Sophomore game.

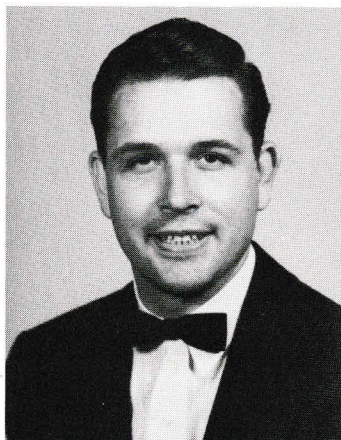

Clarke offers a fine program of scholarships and awards.

SCIENCE BUILDING

Day by day we have hurried through the corridors admiring our new science building more and more. The cheerful colors, comfortable facilities, the pretty furniture, all have made school work more to our liking. What's more the spirit of each member of the student body strives to match the great working spirit of those who planned so generously for us.

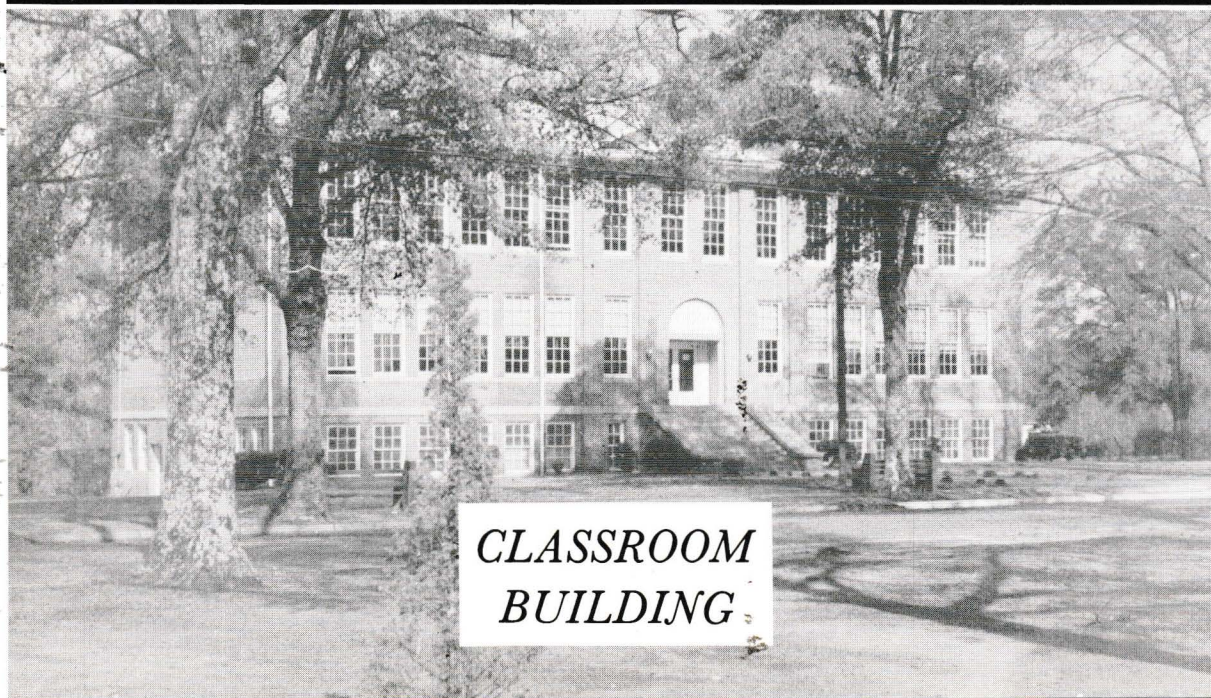

A world of books and Miss Davis' smile to encourage us to read them. Even reference work becomes a pleasure in a comfortable, attractive place like this. Eye-catching bulletin boards, colorful flower arrangements efficient assistants all go together to make our own Sanders Memorial Library.

ACTIVITIES

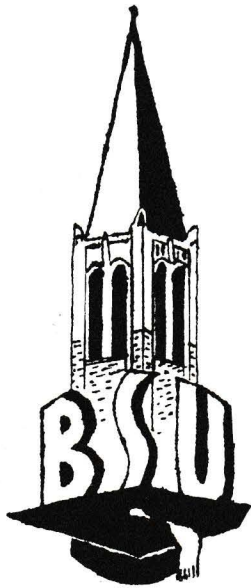

Clubs and activities provide a social life apart from regular school life, yet connected with it in such a way as to influence every phase of it in developing character and increasing knowledge.

Clubs and activities actually take knowledge from the walls of the classroom, mix it with a large measure of enjoyment and a great amount of student participation, and carry it all around the campus.

These are the hands that participated.

SPORTS

Aside from the actual thrill of competition several valuable lessons are learned from sports. A contest is designed to bring out the best. It serves to encourage its participants to strive toward greater endeavors which will lead to ultimate victory.

Above all, sports teach true sportsmanship which is so essential to success in life. It teaches players to work and play together. It brings them to the realization that although they are individuals they can never isolate themselves, but rather must help each other in working toward common goals for only through cooperation can true happiness be obtained.

These are the hands that brought honor to our school and pride to our hearts.

I did it, Dean.

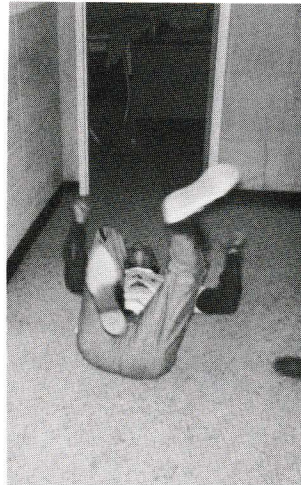

Well, where did you see it last?

I may look busy, but I'm only confused!

I tried to tell the people.

A dead what?

Let's eat, Ma!

Who is the "Leader of the Pack?"

Dancing in the cafeteria?

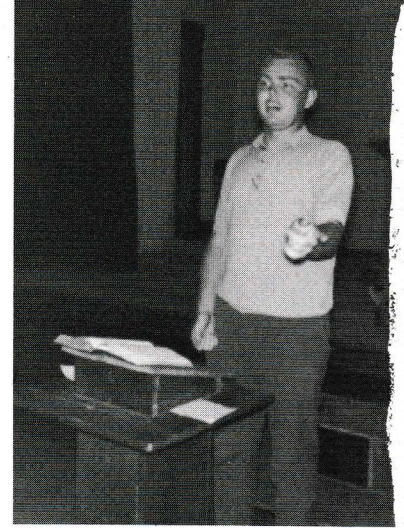

Now, where did I put those demerit slips?

You spilled it, you clean it up!

Roomies

Patsy, you sit over there.

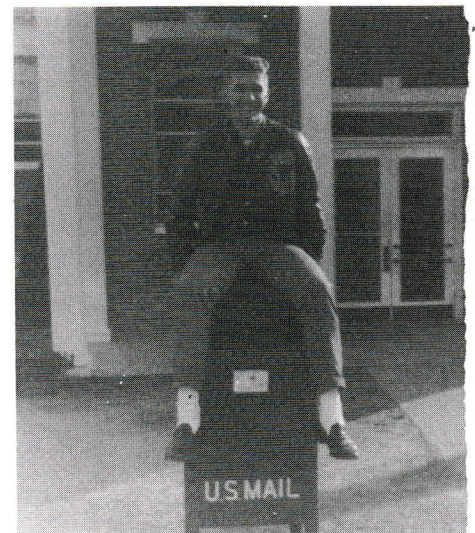

CMC Sophomore Football Squad

Coach?

I found it!

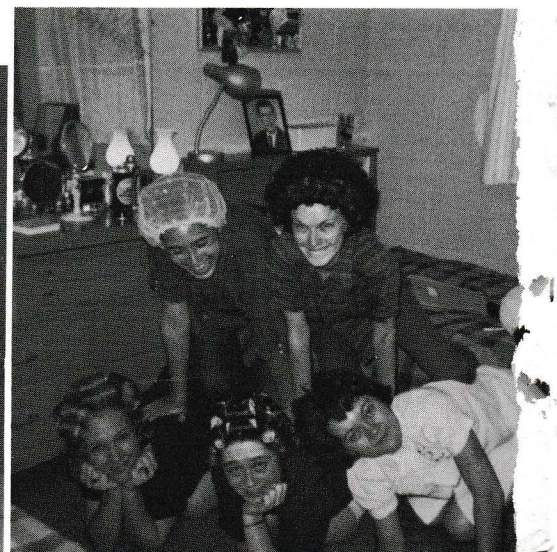

Any male today?

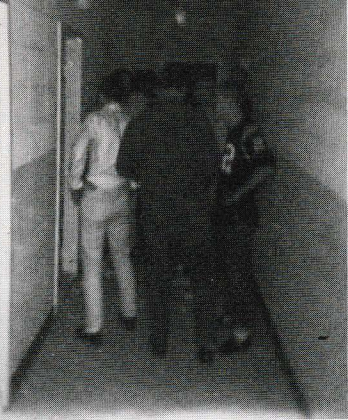

I pledge allegiance

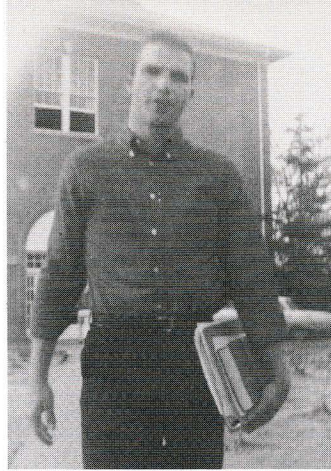

Pantherettes g-r-e-a-t!

Pyramids along the Nile?

What's going on behind that door?

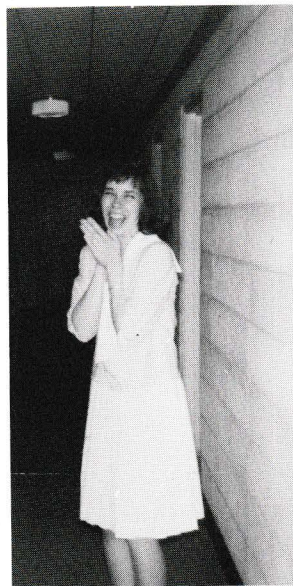

I gotta be going on.

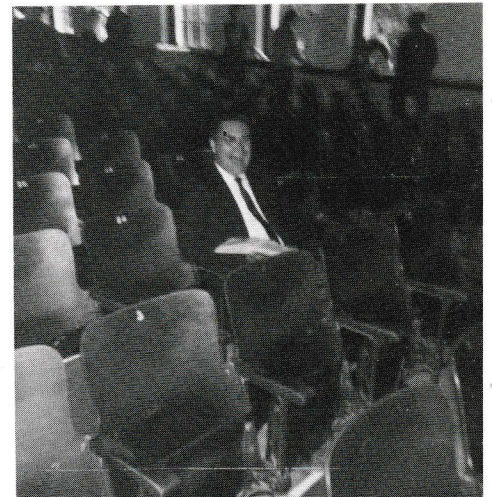

Here, let me help you up.

Having trouble, Ralph?

I just love to get out after ten.

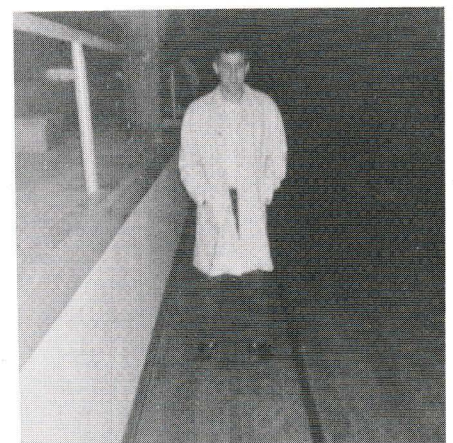

But Brother Costillow, it was over an hour ago.

That will be 3 demerits, girls.

Sweet dreams, Clara

I didn't do it, Coach VanNeste did!

How about this Tom?

FAREWELL

We know not whether to be sad or to rejoice. Selfishly, we grieve that we must leave our dear Alma Mater, but we rejoice at the value of our labors it has been ours to realize.

As students we came to Clarke unsophisticated and uncultured. She did her best for us with the material at hand. She prepared us to go out into the world and sent along with us her blessing.

The end of one day, the beginning of another. The end of one task, the beginning of another. As the tree blossoms, bears fruit, sheds its foliage, and begins another crop so it is with our education. What we have learned, valuable as it is, it is only the beginning. The end of our school work nears and brings with it the commencement of those experiences which will put to test the principles we have learned.

To Clarke we say THANK YOU and FAREWELL.
